The Archeological site is unknown site is in Jabhal Khated which recognised as a Hellenistic. The excavation occurs at the Akropolis my square is no. 60, which was based with about 800mm per with the original ground of Akropolis.

T 60 18.9.96

We clearing the trench. After the first layer of floor in about 200mm we found the real level in which is the same level of the second room in which was excavated in previous years so I decide to clear between these two areas to complete the room

T 60 19.9.96

The work continuing to clear this wall.

T 60. 15.9.96

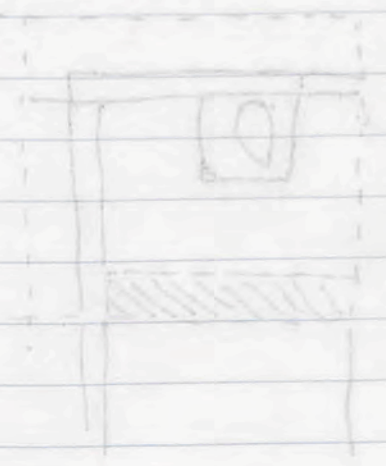

I start to excavate the trench nr. 60. ~~Which appear~~ ~~the head~~ of the wall in which the actual condition is flat ground with lime stone which indicate the wall, which rises about 100 mm above the ground. According to the grid I have 800 mm from the Eastern wall which is part of the next room.

I start to excavate the area A, I cleared in first day 150 mm in which I found about 40 pieces of pottery like body sherdes and rims, also metal in nail shape as well as a few pieces of animal bones particularly birds.

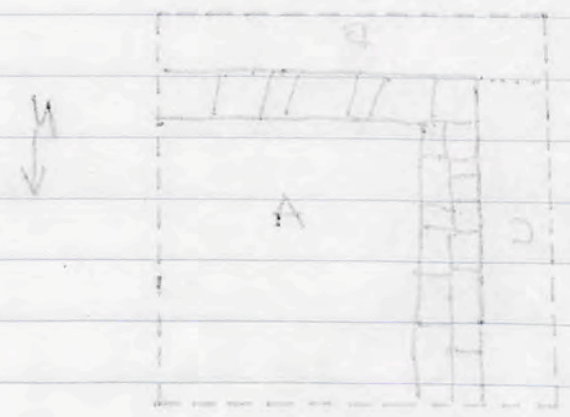

21.9.96

I clear the room after opening to ~~the~~ I completed clear area A which was open to the western space to complete one big room 770x640 cm. The next I excavate area "C" I found an extraordinary plaster board with different geometrical pattern

22.9.96

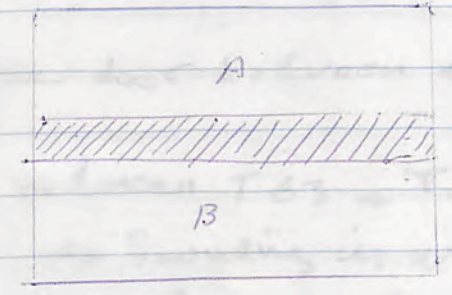

22.9.96

I complet Trench 60 and now ~~refer~~ <sup>refer</sup> for photography. also in section "c" I ~~cover~~ covered the plaster board to protect it until the conservator investigate it. The job with "Trench 60" was complet.

AK JK T 63

22.9.96

I start new trench "63". The trench is very rocky, which is mean that the roof fall in, ~~also~~ as will as the wall, in which I expect that the the wall ~~is~~ in the middel of this Trench.

AK JK

T 63

23.9.96

After taking a few layers of soil as well as a layer of stone the wall in the middel of the trench is very ~~clear~~ clear. Also founding about forty pieces of pottery mostly jars and flat plate, as well as a small ~~piece~~ piece of plaster board painted brownish color as well as three stones in demension.

T63. 4 = 96. 1526 Constantinus 341-6

T63 24/9/96 = 96. 18 = Ant. ix

T. 63. 4 = 96. 152a = Ant viii

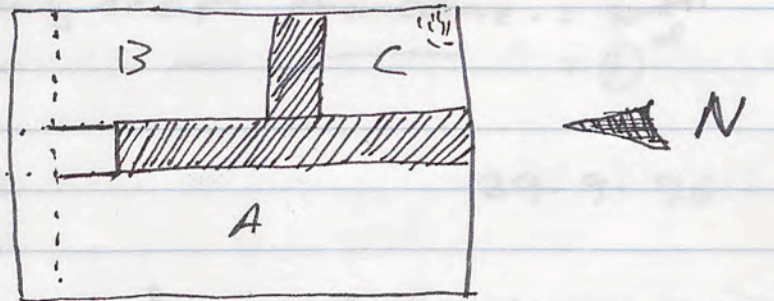

AK JK T 63

24-9-96

During our excavation I found third wall in section B which has been divide the area to "B" and "C".

I found a big booths. also metal objects.

I expect a external door which between B and A

T 63

25-9-96

~~I opened the trench. I mean section 63.~~ today I clear the door between area "B", "A". Also we remove the soil between T63 a T. 64 To flow the external wall. the founding is a little quantity of pottery mostly body sherds. The expectation of completing the work is today. *

AK JK T 64

26-9-96

I complet the trench 63, clean it and photograph it. I want to flow the walls which directed to the East of my original trench. so today start to clean East side

AK JK T 64
 I started to clear the soil from T 64. Now I am deep about 450 mm. No founding except one cone. = ?

AK JK T 64
 I found more than hundred fragments of pottery in the second and third layer of digging - also I found pottery with very fine surface in two support rooms. still we looking for a external wall for Akropolis. T 64 is expected to be to be the bath or toilet of the building. I found one stone in dimension 810 x 340 x 570 mm,

AK JK T 64 28.9.96

I start to clear the soil from T 64. Now I am deep about 450 mm. No founding except one cone. = ?

AK JK T 64 29.9.96

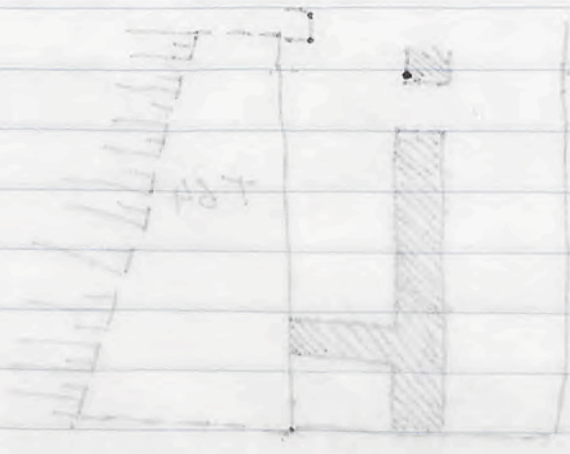

I found more than hundred fragments of pottery in the second and third layer of digging - also I found pottery
 with very fine surface in two support rooms. still we looking for a external wall for Akropolis. T 64 is expected to be to be the bath or toilet of the building. I found one stone in dimension 810 x 340 x 570 mm,

as well as
 640 x 570 x 310 mm
 710 x 570 x 370 mm
 640 x 540 x 330

AK JK T 64 30.9.9.96

I have to remove the soil in Eastern side to found the the wall
 or at least the foundation

AK JK T64 1-10-9

The work is still continuing for removing the soil from Esten side I found a figure of lino's head based on small ~~fragm~~ pieces of stone still I looking for the external wall or its foundation

AK JK T64 2-10-96

After removing ~~about~~ only 1000 mm soil I found the foundation base also I found few coins and one ring. as well as I found piece of molded metal "Metal slab" in which indicate that they made their vials and other metal things by their own.

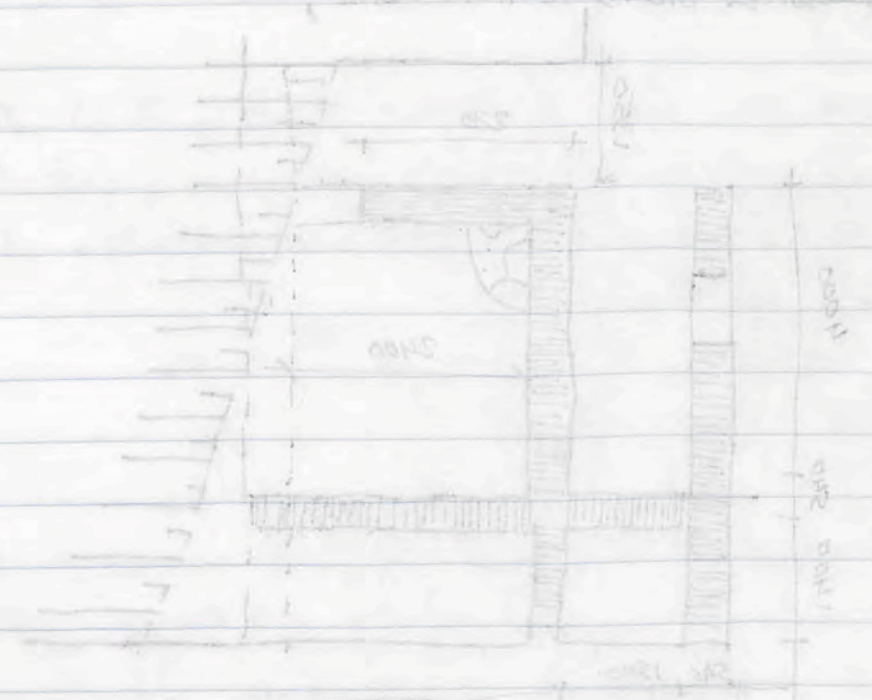

only 1000 mm

AK JK T64 3-10-96

Eastern
The external wall has been broken so we dig in the ~~same~~ same ~~place~~ place of pavement of the bath room to reach the foundation and/or the rock bed, in which founded in about 300mm depth - while the Southern part has been dug till the original ground. The trench T64 has been completed and ready for photographing.

In the deer of foundation I found the A Greek letter (Beta)

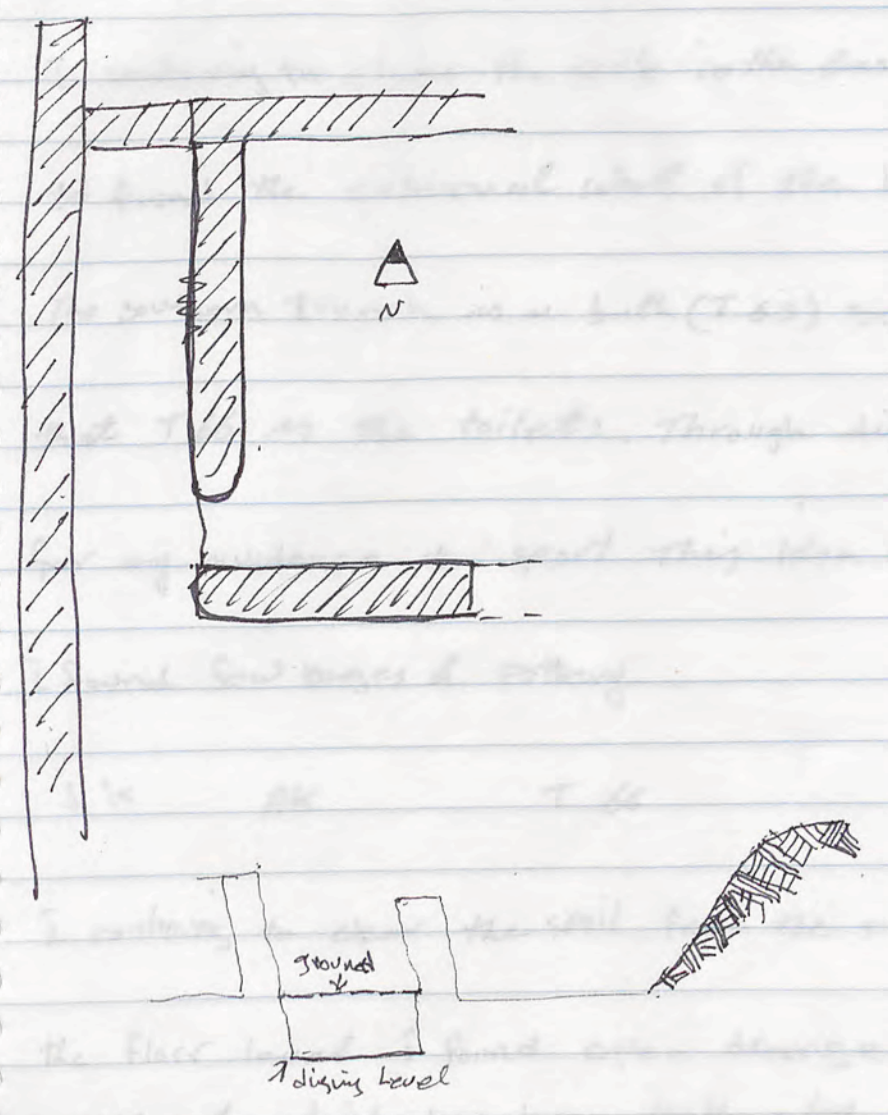

JK AK T66 7.10.96

In conjunction with completing T63 few of people starting to clear the spoil from the top of it. No founding so far.

JK AK T66 8.10.96

We clear the rock from the T66, also we reach the original soil of dip, ~~which~~ ~~the~~ the date we have is two walls directed to the East we think that we can find a external wall of Akropolis. No founding so far <sup>of any level</sup>

JK AK T 66 8.10.96

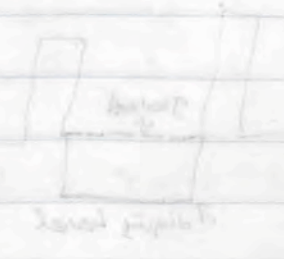

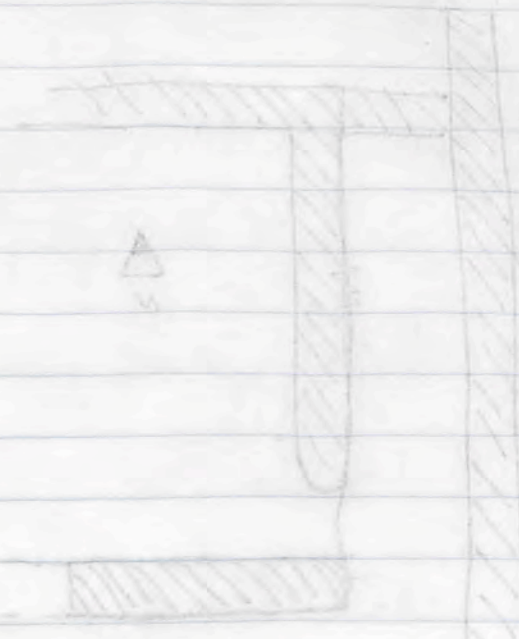

we decide to dig further towards East, the motive to support this idea is to follow the wall. So the first thing we have to remove the spoil in front of us. Through digging I found a number of fragments belong to the same jar also different pieces of pottery. Also we finish to clear the wall with plaster ~~it~~ in very good condition on it.

JK AK T 66 9.10.96

I continue to clear the spoil in the Eastern side of T 66 trying to find the external wall of the building, Also because of the southern trench is a bath (T 63) so this is a logical explanation that T 66 is the toilets. Through digging ~~for~~ period I looking for any evidence to support this idea. ~~Through digging~~ I found few pieces of pottery.

JK AK T 66 10.10.96

I continue to clear the spoil from the site T 66 when we reached the floor level I found open drainage designed as if it was a urinal which has been built along the wall. Also we found

cont. AK JK T 66 10.10.96

The external wall of the building which rising <sup>next to</sup> ~~above~~ the urinal in about 100mm, ~~the wall~~. Also we found a big stone behind the external wall with hole look like a pipe in which we ~~are~~

think that this is part of drainage system, where it needs

further investigation. The work in Trench 66 was completed and ready for photoph.
